LOCAL MATTERS.

As CHRISTMAS is almost here and people want know where to purchase their holiday presents, and naturally look to the newspaper for such information, all who have holiday "goods and wares" to dispose of should defer no longer to advertise, and they will find no surar means of conveying information than that afforded by the Gazette, the circulation of which along the lines of the different railways leading to this city makes it a particularly desirable medium.

But if the Re-adjusters propose to take ears of the members of their own party, all things being equal, it is not apparent why they should overlook the claims of the one and elect the other, and especially when it is remembered that the other was, perhaps, the only Judge in the litate who left the nch to take the stump against them."

Letter from Richmond,

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette. RICHMOND, Dec 8.-In legislative circles to day reas is dull. In fact it is the quiet which precedes the storm. The Readjusters [so called] are at xious to get through the elections, because each day increases their fear of the receipe stready begun in all parts of the State. The effice seckers are still as clamerous as welves. The answer of a well known Sepater-me of the most respectable of the Readjusters-this perming to a country friend was and, matching the knile out, threw it quiversignificant. After having been told about the "dran .w.ep," the question asked, "but what will you do about the debt?" "On, pshaw," secian who attended him during his last hours replied the Senstor, "we can't do anything says the suddeness with which he stopped about that." The answer was significant in that it indicated that although these mee had electioneered and duped people into believing that they came here to settle the debt that was really a secondary consideration. The office grab has been and is the great iteentive among these mee. Indeed even in their platform adopted at their first caucus the debt question comes fourth and last and the resolution comes down to the narrow place of requiring the 'members of this civeus to be bound by the section of the caucus in all matters relating to The Finance Committee are soliciting funds | the public debt, and no member shall offer any with which to foreigh the rectes and pay the resolution in the legislature affecting the debt until said resolution shall have been first seted uponiby the caucus". The Readjusters have Broders, yesterday, remitted the rest on the teen iritated very much because of the publiapartments back of the hall; which is regarded ention of their cancus precedings by the papers. Their policy has been scereey and their ways dark. One delegate in his wrath wished that every new-paper office in the State was burned and sacked and its editors and reporters swagg to the nearest tree. Of course the Whig was excepted. Not only have the doors been barred but double doorkeepers have been put on duty, and ten or more special guards been sent out on the outskirts to shaddow each ro porter. When a newspaper man hove in sight he was surrounded and his steps dogged, and he was never allowed to get in ear shot of the building, but the next day the proceedings of the caucus are r ad "allo same." At the first exucus the select gathering of reporters had their equilibrium nearly upset by a remark from Mr. Paul, who just before adjournment said, "Now all of you go to your rooms and keep everything you have beard in your breasts. Den't talk about it, for it would inform the enemy of our movements." The "keep every thing in your breast" clause was too much for some of the reporters, and he only subdued his laugh by raming his handkerchief in his mouth This morning Cook, the newly elected door keeper of the House, was not on dury, another of the train. Mrs. Fisher had several grown colored mon being in his place. By what an thority Cook has been deposed is not known, and, if he has a success, he has not been elected by the House. The indignation from all parts of the country about the elevation of layeack, this morning airested Cook over the head of a Stonewall Jackson maimed Confederate soldier has made them see the hand writing on the wall, and the proof that the men thus elevated ever the head of brave Sullivan was indicted as a thief, has demonstrated to them that they west a to patch the matter up, but too late.

Mr. Meffest, in the House, to day, offered : resolution that the use of the hall of the House of D. legates be granted to Geo. James C. Hill ter the purpose of delivering his lecture on "Recollections of the Rebellian." He even made a speech appealing to the members to grant the privilege. His speech could but ex cite a smile, and in the light of what has happened, is saunded like sarcasm. Here was the speciacie of one of the leaders of a party which four days ago turust Gen. Hill, a brave onearmed ex Confederate General, from the place he had so efficiently filled, new proffering to him the use of the empty hall which he had not been seemed fix to guard. And the alsonity the cothusiasm with which the readjusters (so | for saie by osiled) voted for that resolution, and how their faces lit up with joy when the resolution was passet! What a noble act on the part of Mr. Moffett, How considerate of the mangled soldier whom you cast out, the man who filled the Freech was clerk of the Committee for Courts of Jun tice last year, and Mr. Wartman as a commit tee clerk. The others are raw men.

The only move so far, in relation to the publie debt, has come from the conservative side. In response to orquiry made by Mr. -the Auditor, to day, reported the amount of the State debt refunded to date $5,750,676,98, classified as follows: In coupon bonds, $7.688,-200; sterling bonds. £69.600 ($348.000); registered bands, $713,500; in fractional certificates,

The Ute Commission.

The final determination of the council of the Indian chiefs and warriors with respect to the demand of Gen. Hatch for the surrender for trial of the accused Indians was appounced by Chief Ouray on Saturday. He says that all delivered up for trial, upon condition that they people of Colerado are not friendly, and a fair trial there er in New Mexico is not to be ex pected. Oa Saturday at noon the Utes come into the agency, and took scats inside the agency build ing. Jack Colorow and twelve other White Biver U.s. and, of course, Ouray were present. When the Indians and the commissioners had taken seats Gen. Hatch addressed the In dians, setting forth the full demands of the commissioners, their right to make the demands, and the paties of a ready (xereised with the Utes. "To day," he said, "is your last chance. We will wait no longer, we want your final answer, and we want no prasions. The list of the Uses charged by the agency women with taking part in the massacre was then read, and the question put by Geo, Hatch; "Will you surrender the men whose names are ished, and, if innecent, acquitted? The question was put twice, and after a con sultation evasive answers were returned to:h times. When the question was repeated the third time Oaray replied, without consulting the other Utes, "How do we know that these Indians you name were at White River at the time of the massacre? or even if they were there, we do not know they were concerned in it. These women mentioned names which came first to their lips, whether they knew them to have been present or not; we cannot depend on what they say."

"That is what we depend or," said Genera Hatch.

General Adams then addressed the Indians. making a speech of over an hour's duration, saying among other titings that the commissioners did not wish to punish Colorow, Jack and others who took part in the Thornburgh Cumberland by canal 153 boats leaded with fight, but the cowardly does who participated in the massacre of the unarged men at the A new tump has been placed at the corner of Fairfax and Prince streets to replace the Utes, and we will have them." The Indiana hold a council then in a low tens of voice among themselves, but did not seem inclined to reply at all, when Gen. Hatch again rose and asked if the guilty Indians were to be surrendered, saying he had made the last appeal.

No one moved or spoke for a few moments, when Colorow lighted a hig pige, the "ripe of peace." Each Indian present drew his knife and laid it on his knees, the question of peace or war being the one pending. Colorow then passed the pipe to the next man without smoking it, and it west around the circle. When the circle was finished he jumped to his feet and straightened up to his full beight, pulled his belt pround until his knife sheath was in front, ing and ringing on the floor. Instantly every Iodian present laid his hand upon his knife or pistol, the whites following their example. The two parties stood fronting and defying each other for some moments, each waiting for the other to make a forward move. There were but six white men in the room, while the Indians numbered 25, though there were 15 soldiers in an adjoining room.

Firaly Ouray spoke: "We cannot deliver up those Indians unless they are tried in Washingtoo. They must not be tried in Colorado. The Colorado people are all our enemies, and to give them up to be tried in this State would be to surrender them to a mob who would hang them. We will bring those twelve men here for you to see, and then those whom you decide guilty shall be taken to Washington and the l'resident shall determine their guilt or inaccence. Donglass will have to go; we know he was in the White River troubles, and you shall decide who else. Upon this condition and no other will wo surrender the twelve men.'

The chief speke with great arrogance and boldness. Oursy added that it would require about a week to bring the men io. Gen, Hatch told him he accepted the proposition as far as bringing the men in was concerted, but as for taking them to Washington he would have first to telegraph Sceretary Schutz to get permission to do so before he could agree to take the Indians East.

Colorow and Jack were immediately dispatched to bring to the twelve named, including Danglass and Perskne. They said they would return in five days.
